

Jungle Villas Kids Club

From making their own kites with the staff, to taking part in a local gamelan performance in the villas, our little guests will want for nothing when staying with us. One of the fabulous things about Bali is that there really are no better people than the Balinese for giving your kids loving, good-humoured care... they will happily rock a baby for hours, throw a ball again and again, do drawing, craft, be climbed on, whatever is needed... it is really something special about Balinese culture. Let the little ones have fun and broaden their horizons while you are immersed in indulgence. We also share some awesome suggestions for family outings. Cancel the babysitter – those ones are for the whole family!

The traditions and culture of Bali beckon from every corner of the Jungle Villas and to enhance that for our younger guests we have added a number of personalised experiences highlighting the traditional village, and unlike the segregated experience at large resorts, these activities will be offered where their parents can observe/enjoy their children's excitement or participate if they would like - or they can relax with their book poolside or luxuriate in the spa facility, knowing that their children are having as much fun as them and are in the hands of the caring friendly staff that they have come to know so well during their stay.

AT THE VILLA/S:

- Mini manicures/pedicures and massages
- Afternoon tea party with children of the staff with home-made cake/cookies
- Kite making
- Preparation of offerings and placing of them at each of the temples/shrines dotted around the villa grounds. To do this they will be put into their own sarong (given to all children) and sashed up as a part of the tradition and a mark of respect
- A visit to a local fabric shop, where locals buy their ceremonial clothes, to be fitted for their own outfit that can be worn to our local temple and to 'show and tell' back home
- A dance performance by young local girls from the village
- A gamelan performance by the village orchestra where the children are invited and encouraged to participate

IN THE VILLAGE:

- A village tour including the temple that sits above the villas; rice paddies/fields with explanation of planting seasons, techniques, etc; wood carving factory where they can watch a range of items being made at any one time; stop at a local warung to see all the goods on offer including fresh local produce; and interaction with local villagers and their children as they wander through the village
- A school visit where younger guests can take part in a class and meet the children and headmaster and play with the children later
- Participation in one of the regular local temple ceremonies if it coincides with their visit (in their new ceremonial garb)

Of course, this is in addition to the many famous tourist attractions across the island, and water and adventure activities that can be accessed with the round the clock chauffeured vehicles available to our guests. Many are in the Canggu area or between the villas and Ubud so ½ day outings are easily achieved.
